My dear Col. Keegan

We are now revising our budgets for the new official year and I find that your house at Bangalore costs annually Rs 2574 including water tax and the hire of furniture. Your stay at Bangalore is limited to more or less very short periods and I do not know if you the benefit derived from keeping a house here for you is commensurate with the cost incurred. If you ~~make up~~ can conveniently stay in a hotel during your visits to Bangalore, then we can give up the house and save the cost of the furniture also ~~and I believe that thereby~~ of course your charges for finding accommodation in a hotel will be defrayed by Government I hope you will not misunderstand me and think when I make this ~~personal~~ suggestion to you. I only request that money is assure myself ~~should not~~ be a bar to your accepting a house, when unencumbered

if there is no strong necessity for keeping it continuously for some lengthened period.
Kindly let me know unreservedly what you think on the matter.

I may inform you that such application has been made to the Secretary for the extension of your services for a year more. Yours sincerely

SC:6 Mysore. 11

24th July 1904.

My dear Sir Krishnamurti,

I received your letter of the 21st last evening.

I am sorry I am unable to accept your proposal that we should give up the house in Bangalore and resort to an hotel whenever we may be in or passing through the place.

The latter arrangement would not suit us at all, as my wife is in delicate health & if she had such a place to go to for a change when necessary from here or wherever else she

She may happen to be, it might result in her having to go to England & my having to go with her.

Yours Sincerely,

Sd) T. P. McGann
